

March 22, 2010

Subject: EPA Sponsoring Free WaterISAC Pro Subscriptions for Water/Wastewater Utilities

Dear Association Leaders,

The U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) Office of Water would like to provide utility members and circuit riders with free access to WaterISAC Pro - a unique source of water and wastewater security and all-hazards information. EPA believes widespread access to this information will increase overall Water Sector security and resiliency, and is therefore sponsoring free, 12-month subscriptions to WaterISAC Pro. WaterISAC Pro services include access to a secure online library of water security and emergency response information, contaminant databases, online tools for collaboration, weekly updates and, if necessary, alerts about water security incidents.

We ask that you, as Association and Water Sector leaders, encourage your utility members and circuit riders to sign up for these free subscriptions by contacting them via email bulletins or newsletters. Signing up is easy and takes only a few moments at www.waterisac.org.

If you have any questions, please do not hesitate to contact me or Karen Edwards, the EPA project lead, at 202-564-3797 or e-mail: edwards.karen@epa.gov.

Best regards,

Brian Pickard, P.E., BCEE, RS
Acting Chief, Security Assistance Branch
Water Security Division
Office phone (202) 564-0827
e-mail: pickard.brian@epa.gov